"I don't know what you think we're doing." "We're moving people." "How nice for you, Miss McBain." "You move people." "It's your job." "The rest of us have our own." "Why don't you try keeping your tires from blowing?" "All right, all right, you leave her alone!" "You're not fooling anybody." "Stay out of this." "There's no call for this." "I'm gonna be on my way now, Noah." "Me too." "Noah, yes or no?" "Do you want to find out?" "Noah, yes or no?" "All right." "Here." "Better tie him up." "Yes." "Yes, that's it." "Hang on, now." "There you go." "Take care of that." "Now, you don't happen to have a stick of dynamite in there, do you?" "Do you?" "Noah, you didn't tie him up." "There." "Noah, you'd better tie this end around the tree, then the rest of it will fall out." "That's it." "Now, hold it." "There." "Throw the rest of it over." "All right." "All right." "Now, you see that tree right there?" "Yeah." "All right, you just stand there and keep your eye on that tree." "Are you ready?" "Noah, I thought we were going to have a picnic." "Come on." "It's a good omen." "Yeah." "Now, hold it." "Now, you just wait here, Noah." "Hello, Bart." "Who are you?" "What do you want?" "The freight train, Noah." "The freight train." "Don't you recognize the whistle?" "That's right." "The whistle." "You see, I can afford to be generous today because I'm gonna help you get on the freight." "Tell me where the money is and I'll see that you go free." "That isn't the way we do business." "One or two of us go free, and then we're not in business much longer." "What do f678ea9f9e
